

Borderers: mPass now takes you farther

The issuing of mPass for 2018 is now expected.

mPass enables you to use all means of Luxembourgish public transport which are coordinated by the Verkéiersverbond.

The price of mPass is calculated by reference to the annual season-ticket Joeresabo (€ 440 minus a 3% VAT). On this price, Luxembourg offers a 20% discount, while recommending to companies / administrations to give their employees an additional discount of at least 20%. The Court of Justice will henceforth contribute a 20% discount, thus complying with this recommendation which EPSU CJ brought to its attention. 😊

This is how the Court of Justice worked out the price of mPass at € 256.31.

To encourage the use of public transport, EPSU CJ subsidizes its members with an additional amount of € 50.

Cross-the-border commuters

For all three bordering countries, commuters can now combine their mPass with a supplement called Flex Pass.

1. For the railway, look up in:

D Deutschland
Flex Pass für Luxemburg

F France
Flex Pass SNCF

B Belgique
Flex Pass Belgian Rail

2. For (3-digit) RGTR buses:

An mPass Annual Supplement 'Flex Pass Regio', covering the part of the journey which falls outside the limits of the (Luxembourg) national fare, is henceforth available. To get it, you must have applied previously to your institution for an mPass.

There are further reasons for anticipating an increase in the demand for mPass subscriptions for 2018:

The train stop under the Red Bridge, combined with a funicular and a first section of the tram, will be put into operation on 10 Dec 2017. So, railway users will be able to skip the traffic-jammed part of the journey from the Luxembourg-Railway station up to the Kirchberg plateau.

If the EU Institutions manage to double the number of their mPass holders, next time Verkéiersverbond will increase its discount from 20% to 30%.
